UNIVERSITY OF MYSORE

MAHARAJA'S COLLEGE, MYSORE

The University of Mysore is one of the oldest universities in India. Sri Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV, the benevolent ruler of Mysore and Sir M.Visweswaraya, engineer-statesman and the then Dewan of Mysore, were the pioneers in establishing this university. The university came into existence on 25th July, 1916, as the seventh in the country and the very first in the erstwhile Princely State of Mysore.

The University, which made a humble beginning with only two colleges, i.e., Maharaja's College at Mysore for Humanities and Central College at Bangalore for Sciences, has grown into a renowned centre of higher learning. There are as many as 196 colleges including five constituent colleges under its fold at present. Now the jurisdiction of Mysore University is spread over the four districts of Mysore, Mandya, Hassan and Chamarajanagara.

Maharaja's College, which was the nucleus of the University in the beginning, is now a constituent college offering B.A.,B.B.M., B.Com., Degree Courses; P.G. Course in Criminology and Forensic Science; P.G. Diploma in Criminology and Correctional Administration (from 2008-09); and M.Sc in Geographical Information for Sustainable Development (GIS).

In the field of education, Maharaja's College, has been shining with a brilliance and grandeur of its own. It is one of the oldest, biggest and greatest educational institutions of India, blessed by the liberal patronage of the benevolent Wodeyar Monarchs of Mysore. Mysore, the erstwhile beautiful capital of Mysore State, was once described as 'the Oxford of South India'.

Mysore, situated at the north-western base of the much revered and renowned Chamundi Hill, is built in a valley formed by three ridges running north and south. The college building is located on the second ridge. From this wonderful location with its magnificent prospect of an undulating country which appears to extend as far as the horizon, it creates the impressive scene of gigantic waves of the ocean petrified into stillness. ".....the College is the most beautiful object for contemplation during the evenings when it is bathed with soft yellow glow of the rays of the setting sun," said Prof. M.V. Krishna Rao, the renowned author of 'The Ganges of Talkad'.

Originally instituted as Raja's Free School for Basic learning by his Highness Krishnaraja Wodeyar III in 1833, it was raised to the status of a High School, then in 1879, to that of a second-grade college known as Maharaja's College, Mysore. In 1894 the college which shifted to its present site, became a full fledged First Grade

College and continues to render yeoman service in the field of education.

In 1916 a Bill was passed in the Mysore Legislative Council and the University of Mysore saw the light of day as the first university outside the domain of British administration in India. In the fresh set-up of the new university, Prof. C.R. Reddy was the first Principal of Maharaja's College followed by most capable principals like Prof. N.S. Subba Rao, Prof. J.C. Rollo, Prof. A.B. From its portals wonderful waves of generations of remarkable men and women have graduated rendering distinguished service in all departments of society and enriching our great intellectual and cultural traditions. The parental care and guidance of eminent principals and professors who have laid emphasis in equal measure on knowledge and wisdom, on ability and character, on learning and refinement, have helped their wards inculcate true values of life. Thousands of students have gone out of this College during these years into different spheres of life, here and in other parts of the country and the world, immeasurably better than when they entered it, and have been enriching the public services of our dear Motherland in all spheres of life. Several of the great alumni of this college have become State and Union Ministers, Members of Parliament, Legislative Assemblies and Councils, Speakers, Chairpersons, Ambassadors; prominent media persons and Social workers of outstanding calibre. The part played by the students and teachers of this college in the unparalleled Satyagraha Movement, as active participants and powerful writers has to be written in letters of gold.

The list of the distinguished alumni of this College who made a name for themselves and spread the fragrance of fame of this College all over the world is very impressive. It includes such prominent alumni as His Highness Sri Jayachamarajendra Wodeyar, the Maharaja of Mysore, R. K. Narayan, R. K. Lakshman, M.V. Rajagopal, M. Krishnaswamy, M. N. Srinivas, L. The alumni of this college, to its great pride, have become eminent people in all walks of life.

Another highly interesting and admirable feature of this College is the unprecedented encouragement given to teaching the Humanities, Commerce and Management and the Sciences, and the unparalleled enthusiasm expressed for learning these branches of knowledge through the medium of Kannada.

Our College has been an extraordinary centre not only for learning and research, but also for co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. The variety of prizes, medals, shields, etc., enhancing the beauty of the Chamber of the Principal is an eloquent proof of this.

The college also has had the honour of welcoming historic visitors of distinction such as Nobel-Laureate Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore, the silver-tongued Rt. Hon'ble Srinivasa Shastry, Jinnah, K. M. Munshi, Statesman and last Governor General of India, C. Rajagopalachari, the composer of the Memorable song "Sare Jahanse Achcha", Mohammed Iqbal, renowned historians Arnold Toynbee and D. D. The centenary celebrations of the Maharaja's Institution were held in 1951. On this occasion a splendid Maharaja's College Centenary Building was erected on the college campus, thanks to the munificence of His Highness Sri Jayachamarajendra Wodeyar of Mysore who was also an admirable alumnus of this college. Today the spacious auditorium of this building is the centre for all social, educational and cultural activities. During the grand centenary celebrations, a beautiful idol of Goddess Saraswathi, who has been showering her blessings on one and all, was installed. The elegant Asoka Sthambha was set up in front of the college building as a strong symbol of the highly laudable services that this college has been rendering to promote the cause of education in conformity with the motto of our University, "Nahi Jnanene Sadrisham - Nothing is equal to Knowledge" and to lead the students towards the Light of Creative Wisdom. These two are the enduring gifts of love and reverence offered by the famous Sculptor Silpi Sri Siddalingaswamy. Aptly, the College has the rising sun symbolizing the kindling of the Light of Knowledge among students irrespective of caste, creed and colour with the words of Adikavi Pampa "ಮನುಷ್ಯ ಜಾತಿ ತಾನೊಂದೇ ವಲಂ", meaning "Mankind is One" as its emblem. To further commemorate this grand event, His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, also instituted a chair for Indology.

The College brings out a magazine annually with the title 'Anantayatri' signifying the long intellectual pilgrimage to master knowledge and providing opportunities for the students to exhibit their writing talent in all branches of study. If it is said that no other institution of higher learning has such a long, impressive and enviable record of services to the educational sphere, it will not at all be an exaggeration.

"ಮನುಷ್ಯ ಜಾತಿ ತಾನೊಂದೇ ವಲಂ", meaning "Mankind is One".

A Saga of Eminence :

One Hundred Years of Maharaja's (First Grade) College 1894-1994

The year 1994 marked the one hundredth year of starting BA classes in Maharaja's College. It was in 1894, Maharaja's College was upgraded to First Grade College offering BA courses. Till then it was a Second Grade College providing school education to enable appearance for matriculation and BA examinations conducted by Madras University.

The genesis of the College is traced to the founding of Raja's Free School in 1833 by His Highness Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, the visionary Maharaja of the Princely State of Mysore. Macaulay's Minute had motivated the liberal minded benevolent Maharaja to this noble act. Over the years, the little school transformed itself into a great institution of learning drawing upon the spirit and energies of many scholar-teachers and in reciprocity sending out people who made their presence felt in different walks of life.

The purpose of Maharaja's Free School was to provide elementary education to the pupils of Mysore in English Literature, Mathematics, Kannada, Hindustani and Marathi. The budget for the school was provided by His Highness. Lack of interest in English education among the Indians did not bring many students to the school, although education was given gratis. For better management, the school was handed over to the Wesleyan Mission in 1835 and in 1850 the school was returned to the fold of His Highness. Around the same time, an education policy was formulated by the British rulers which envisaged an active role for the government in promoting education.

In 1862, the status of the school was raised to that of a High School with Mr. James Dunning as the Principal. The founder of the Raja's School, His Highness Krishnaraja Wadiyar Bahadur III, passed away on 27 th March 1868 and after his death the Raja's Free School was taken over by the Government. The Government thought it desirable to impose a small fee on students as free education was considered unsound in principle. Subsequently, the school became a centre of the Madras University for the conduct of Matriculation and BA examinations. BA courses were introduced and withdrawn due to lack of adequate strength. However, admission to the school had begun to improve. In 1897, the school was designated as a Second Grade College under the name of The Maharaja's College, Mysore, and C.M. Leonard was appointed Principal.

Mr. H. J. Bhabha, M.A., became the principal of the college in 1884, and in pursuance of the wishes of His Highness, he submitted a memorandum to the Governor General for raising of the Maharaja's College to the First Grade. During Bhabha's principalship the performance of students in the examinations was remarkable. The College in the year 1885, 1886 and 1887 stood first and third among 27 Second Grade Colleges of Southern India and stood fifth on the whole.

In recognition of his excellent services, Mr. Bhabha was appointed Secretary to the Government Education Department and was succeeded by Mr. John Weir, a mathematician, who continued till 1910. His Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor of Wales laid the foundation stone for a new building for the college (the present building) in Gordon Park on 29th November 1891. The magnificent Indo-Sarcenic edifice, a splendid architecture, was completed in 1893. The college was shifted to the new building in the same year. In 1894 The College was raised to First Grade. BA classes with History and Mathematics as optional subjects began to be offered. By 1910, High school was bifurcated from the College and shifted to Maharaja's High School.

His Highness continued to show keen interest in the progress of the college. The tradition of enlightened learning under awesome principals and teachers continued. Mr. Thomas Denham was appointed Principal in 1910.

Sir M. Visveswaraya, the farsighted Dewan of Mysore, gave fillip to the idea of 'University of Mysore'. Mr. T. Denham and Mr. C. R. Reddy were sent to U.S.A. and Australia respectively to study the functioning of Universities in those countries. They submitted a report on educational progress made in those countries and, as a follow-up, a bill was passed in the Mysore Legislative Council in 1916 for the creation of University of Mysore. It was the first University outside the domain of British Authority in India.

Mr. C. R. Reddy became the first principal of Maharaja's College in the new set up of Mysore University. He was succeeded by Dr. N. S. Subba Rao of Political Science Department who had returned from Cambridge with excellent academic achievements.

The faculty of the College consisted of Mr. K. T. Shah of the Department of Commerce, Prof. A.R. Wadia, Dr. S. Radhakrishnan (who later became the President of India), Dr. M. Hiriyanna of the Philosophy department, Prof. R. Mookerjee and Prof. S. V. Venkateswara of History, Mr. J. C. Rollo, Mr. A. B. McIntosh and Mr. B. M. Srikantaiah of English. Dr. N. S. Subba Rao became the Vice-Chancellor of the University in 1932. A number of new optional subjects were offered to B.A. students. M.A. courses were also started and continued to be offered in Maharaja's College till the creation of 'Manasagangotri' campus in 1960. Now, Maharaja's College is a constituent of the University of Mysore.

Prof. Rollo succeeded Dr. N. S. Subba Rao as Principal of the College in 1928 and continued till 1943. In 1936, Prince Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar attended the college in B.A. course (his son Prince Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar was also an alumnus of the college). This period was a vibrant one with the fame of the college reaching new heights. The students and teachers of the College did not remain bystanders in the Freedom Struggle. While some participated in the freedom struggle directly, a few others chose writing to express their anguish over the sufferings in their motherland.

Prevention of Sexual Harassment of Women Working/Studying in University of Mysore

Studies show that sexual harassment at workplace is rampant and present in all kinds of organizations. Sexual harassment is all about expression of male power over women. It is used to remind women of their vulnerability and subordinate status. Sexual harassment affects the lives of innumerable working women. However it is often hidden or not reported making women suffer silently.

'UNWELCOME' is the key word in defining sexual harassment. If a woman faces harassment in her workplace on the basis of her gender alone, it is termed as 'Sexual Harassment at workplace'. Work place is any place of work, where a working relationship exists. Applying this to 'Educational Setup' it includes women staff/students/research scholars etc of the institution.

In this context the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India passed a historic judgment on 13th August 1997 concerning sexual harassment at workplace. The court has thus ratified the demand made by women's groups in a writ petition 'Vishaka versus State of Rajasthan' (in connection with Rajasthan's Bhavari Bai Rape Case) for the enforcement of fundamental rights of working women guaranteed under the Constitution. It points out that sexual harassment at workplace is a crime and is a violation of Fundamental Rights of women workers given in Article 14 (Right to Equality), Article 19(g) (Right to freedom of profession) and Article 21 (Protection of life and personal liberty).

Rights of Women at Workplace :

- Physical contacts and advances
- A demand or request for sexual favours
- Sexually coloured remarks
- Showing pornography
- Any other unwelcome physical, verbal or non-verbal conduct of a sexual nature

When to Complain :

- When a man subjects you to an unwelcome act of physical intimacy even though there is sufficient space
- When a man stares and makes you feel uncomfortable/makes offensive gestures
- Expects/demands sexual favours to get a work done.
- Expects/instructs you to meet him alone/late hours
- Makes an unwelcome remark with sexual connotations, like sexually explicit compliments/cracking loud jokes with sexual connotations/making sexist remarks/double meaning statements.
- Makes an unwelcome demand or request (whether directly or by implication) for sexual favours
- Shows sexually explicit visual material, in the form of pictures/cartoons/pinups/calendar/screen savers/ offensive written material/pornography/e- mails, etc. Other than the above noted points, if you experience fear/discriminations/discomfort in the presence of that person just because of your gender.

To whom should the complaint be given?

- Complaint Committee in the workplace
- To the superior concerned in the workplace/place of study e.g. Boss, Principal, Director, Manager etc.
- Vice Chancellor/Registrar of the University.
- Sexual Harassment Complaints Committee, University of Mysore - Chairperson, Secretary, Members.

The Complaint Mechanism

The aim of the complaint mechanism is to end the harassment such that women can continue to work/study with dignity. Formal complaints need to be given by filling in the details in the following format.
